Forecast for Sunday 22 Aug 2021

Weather: A rather cloudy and damp start to the day, with outbreaks of rain and drizzle at times. The rain will gradually ease during the morning and the low cloud will lift, thin and break to give some bright or sunny spells in the afternoon. However, there is the chance of a few light and well-scattered showers. Becoming drier and clearer during the evening, before low cloud drifts in off the North Sea after dark.

Chance of cloud free mountain/hill tops above 600m: 10% chance in the morning, with cloud bases down to 300-400m. Lifting to above the summits by late-morning.

Visibility: Very poor at first, becoming good or very good by the afternoon, with distant hills clearly visible.
